

Clarity. Legacy. Intention

DVC HOLDINGS

Who We Are

DVC Holdings is a legacy-driven holdings company designed to bring structure, clarity, and intentionality to every venture we build.

Born from a deep desire to unify creativity, purpose, and legacy under one strategic umbrella, DVC Holdings honors three pillars of the founder's life—Dela, Vida, and Centuria—whose values of faith, sacrifice, and wisdom continue to shape the work.

We believe every business should be anchored in meaning, and every move should build toward something greater than success: legacy.

DVC Holdings is not just about diversification—it's about direction. We structure creativity and provide a home for purposeful entrepreneurship.

Our Story

The name DVC stands for Dela, Vida, and Centuria — my father, mother, and aunt.

These three extraordinary individuals shaped my view of the world. Their love, wisdom, and discipline are the foundation for how I lead and how I build.

By naming the company after them, I've anchored every decision in gratitude, humility, and generational purpose. DVC isn't sentimental. It's strategic. It reminds me where I come from—and where I'm going.
